TRUMP CARD
ON CREDITORS

Confesses to His Crimes But Assures Representatives of Bank and Trust Companies That If Left Free He Will Make Restitution.

WANTS ONLY TWO DAYS
TO PAY THIRTY PER CENT

Method by Which He Uttered Nearly a Million Dollars Worth of Bad Paper on Which Banks Loaned Huge Sums of Money.

BY J. J. McALLIFFE.

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 13.—William H. Harrison, the St. Joseph grain dealer, who secured from the banks nearly $1,000,000 on forged bills of lading purporting to represent thousands of cars of grain, faced a committee of his creditors today and calmly announced that he was willing to stand the consequences of a criminal prosecution. He said that if the creditors would bear with him and not prosecute he felt certain he would settle the unsecured claims by a payment of 30 cents on the dollar and then if his creditors would accept this amount as a partial settlement of their claims and allow him to resume business he might be able to increase the dividend to 40 or 50 cents, and even eventually discharge the entire amount of his obligations.

The conference at which Harrison—who frankly confessed to forging the names of railroad officials and others on fictitious bills of lading and says his only regret is that he had not duplicated genuine bills of lading, in which event he insists he would not have been detected—was attended by E. H. Stokes, representing the Mercantile National Bank, New York; J. D. Hood, Commercial National Bank, Chicago; Frederick Duffey, Corn Exchange Bank, Chicago; J. P. Meldinger, Commercial National Bank, New Orleans; A. C. Stewart, St. Louis Union Trust Co.; Judge E. Robinson, National Bank of Commerce, Kansas City; E. N. Saunders, Whitney National Bank, New Orleans; George H. Carr, Missouri Central Co.; Moberly, Mo.; Culver Phillips and Spencer, American National Bank, Kansas City, and New Orleans parties; Alexander New, Kansas City; and R. A. Brown, St. Joseph, representing W. H. Harrison and Tootle Lemen National Bank of St. Joseph; W. J. McCall of the McCall Denmore Co., Minneapolis; T. P. Gordon, grain man, St. Joseph.

R. A. Brown of St. Joseph and Alexander New of Kansas City, attorneys for Harrison, say the creditors are not disposed to prosecute their client if a satisfactory basis of settlement can be reached. "The creditors," said Mr. New, "were all satisfied with the statement that he now feels more kindly disposed towards Harrison than they have been in the past. His proposition has been adopted it looks as if the entire matter would be amicably adjusted."

Harrison is 45 years old. He came to St. Joseph from a small Kansas town 12 years ago. His habits have not been those of extravagance and his home on North Eighth street is modest. He wears an eight-dollar suit and a pair of shoes that are not up to the style of an ordinary clerk. Harrison is short, with a yellow complexion, deep, dark rings under his eyes and a cool address. He never smiles. He is simply a cold, calculating machine—a man who works night and day without a thought of rest.

Harrison is a Marvel of a Man. "I have met many men, but none who may be compared to Harrison," remarked Judge Robinson, president of the Kansas City Bank of Commerce, at the close of today's conference.

"He does not deny the crime; does not deny that he knew that he was perpetrating a crime when he forged the many bills of lading and warehouse receipts which he collected nearly a million dollars; he does not ask for mercy from the people who have been deceived by his fraud; he does not ask for a long term in the penitentiary. He quietly plays a trump card so to speak by calmly begging his creditors that if given two days' time he will make a payment of from 30 to 40 per cent on his indebtedness. And if liberty that he will in all probability be able to pay the balance and square his accounts all around. It is claimed by some in St. Joseph that Harrison has something like $600,000 stored away in a strong box. The majority disregard this report. He said that he lost $200,000 on the Chicago Board of Trade a little more than two years ago, and that he has devoted his time since then in trying to get even."

"His system was certainly a marvel of perfection. I heard it said that he did not find his forged bills of lading with the grain companies, but that he had a man to rob any of his associates in the grain business. That report is without foundation. He could not have been so careless. The grain firms because they would accept that fact within two or three days. For instance, he would secure money by lading for grain to be delivered in Toledo. This grain could not possibly reach there without being sold to him by a system of bookkeeping he kept account of his different deals and just prior to the delivery time of this shipment he would borrow another large sum from either that same bank or another institution on bills of lading on Buffalo, Detroit or some other distant city. In this way he kept a continuous chain of paper floating for a period of 18 months, the crash not coming until he was forced to a show-down last week.

Prosecuting Attorney L. C. Gabbert stated today that he thought Harrison ought to be prosecuted, and this is as far as Mr. Gabbert has gone towards forcing out the facts of the case. The prosecuting attorney seems to be "officially" advised that he should be "officially" advised concerning Harrison's crime, and with unconscious humor remarks that he "hasn't any idea whether the offenses of which Harrison is accused were committed by him or not."

In the meanwhile, however, the Tootle-Lemen interests in St. Joseph have been gradually protecting themselves, until at the present time they are amply well provided for the $235,000 worth of Harrison paper they are holding. The speculator owns the Gulf elevator at Kansas City, valued at $130,000, and the Elwood elevator in Kansas, valued at another $145,000. Then, too, he owns stock in the Kelley Milling Co. of Kansas City, and a big bunch of stock in an old Mexico mining company, which gives promise of itself alone being worth enough to pay all his debts. The Tootle-Lemen folk have first lion on all their holdings, and if they can keep them as is said before, they will come out of the transaction in good shape.

"As for the Kansas City grain companies, I am informed that they are not willing to pay any great extent. Just a few thousand dollars all told. And as they have secured the money for the recovery of their grain, I suppose they will escape unscathed."

As claimed by Harrison, the paper held by the Kansas City banks is genuine, they will be able to recover some small portion of the money they have advanced. As to what amount they advanced I am not at liberty to state.

Workman Seeking to Save Time by Jumping From One Bathroom to Another, Has Fatal Fall.

Seeking to save steps and time, Edward Cullen, a plumber, working at 254 Olive street, attempted to jump from one bathroom to another and lost his life in the 30-foot fall that resulted.

Cullen lived at 305 North Twentieth street. He was employed in a row of dwellings under construction, and attempted to jump across an eight-foot court that separated the room where he had just finished working to the one where he was about to commence. The jump was longer than he anticipated, and he fell from the second story window to an excavation at the bottom of the court. He died instantly.

CAPT. IRA KEITHLEY, THE MISSING COMMANDER OF
PHILIPPINE CONSTABULARY

CAPT. IRA S. KEITHLEY.

FLEEING DISGRACE,
SOLDIER CAPTAIN
HINTS AT DEATH

Ex-Commander of Philippine Constabulary at the World's Fair Accused in Warrant of Embezzling Funds of the Insular Government.

Diligent quest is being made for Capt. Ira S. Keithley, until lately in command of the Philippine constabulary at the World's Fair.

He is charged in a federal warrant sworn out by Major Amos D. Haskell, who was recently assigned to the command of the constabulary, with embezzlement of the amount of his defalcation has not been determined, but it is said to be not less than $4000.

Capt. Keithley was last heard from in Texas. He is believed to have been headed for Mexico and in all likelihood he has crossed the border before this, his former colleagues say.

In a letter to his wife, since his departure, he has stated that he will end his life rather than be punished for his defalcation and desertion.

Betting on horse races is assigned as the cause for Capt. Keithley's downfall. He is understood to have devised a system of betting on the races which he thought would enable him to beat the game and make handsome winnings. He is alleged to have used the funds of the insular government in playing the races under his system.

Keithley brought the detachment of constabulary from the Philippines to the Exposition and was in command of them until he was succeeded about a month ago by Major Haskell. At the time it was stated that no significance attached to the change. Major Haskell said he had been ordered to St. Louis and merely took command because he was of higher rank than Capt. Keithley. It is said, now, however, that Capt. Keithley was at that time reduced to points to the rank of lieutenant for some indiscretion.

Missing for Two Weeks.

He has been missing since Aug. 25. On Aug. 25 he asked for a three days' leave of absence, pleading illness. On the 28th he returned and asked for another leave for the same length of time, saying that his child was sick and he was compelled to go home.

Mrs. Keithley is now at the home of her parents at Highlandville, Mo., the station of Ozark. She had been in St. Louis for some time prior to the disappearance of her husband and left for Highlandville the following day. She is understood to have received a letter from her husband, which was mailed somewhere in Texas.

It is believed that he spent the three days of his first leave of absence trying to obtain money enough to replace what he had wrongfully used.

He is thought to have had about $2000 when he disappeared.

The money which he wrongfully applied was turned over to him by Lieut. J. S. Manning, disbursing officer of the constabulary, and was intended to be used in paying the men and in paying bills.

EUROPEAN STATESMEN CALL ON WORLD POWERS TO ARBITRATE
BETWEEN RUSSIA AND JAPAN

Interparliamentary Union Passes Resolution Commending President Roosevelt and Defeats One Censuring Nations in Hague Congress.

WRANGLE IS CAUSED BY SUBJECT OF WAR METHODS

Delegates Differ Over Question Whether It Is Appropriate for Them to Seek Abolition of Floating Mines as Means of Marine Safety.

A resolution urging the powers signatory of The Hague conference to intervene for the ending of war between Russia and Japan, a telegram to President Roosevelt commending him as the champion of international justice, and the defeat of a declaration that the countries participating in the peace conference at The Hague have been remiss in not offering their mediation to stop the war between Russia and Japan were the features of Tuesday at the Interparliamentary Union, in session at the World's Fair Hall of Congresses.

The session was scheduled to begin in the Hall of Congresses at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, but the delegates were slow, and it was 11:15 o'clock when the session began. This failure to get started at the appointed hour was displeasing to the leaders of the conference, and they took the matter up at once with the result that it was voted to hold all sessions after Tuesday at the Southern Hotel.

The delegates say they are for the most part quartered at the downtown hotels and that it will be possible for them to get to the Southern at 10 o'clock when they could not reach the Hall of Congresses at the Fair earlier than 11.

Congressman Richard Bartholdt of St. Louis offered the following telegram as a greeting from the conference to President Roosevelt: "Twelfth Interparliamentary Peace Conference, composed of the representatives of 15 different parliaments, at the commencement of its deliberations, sends its respectful and cordial salutations to the president of the great American republic. It considers itself fortunate to have the opportunity of holding its sessions in a country whose chief magistracy is considered by all nations a champion of international justice."

Secretary Gobet took it and read it, first in French and then in German, and its successive reading was received with cries of "Bravo!"

The telegram was sent with unanimous consent.

There were at this time some 100 persons in the Hall of Congresses, many of the attendees being the wives, families and friends of the peace advocates from foreign countries.

Count Goblet d'Alviella of Belgium brought up the Russo-Japanese war. He introduced the following resolution: "The Interparliamentary Peace Conference, shocked by the horrors of the war that is being waged in the far East between two civilized states, and deploring that the powers signatory of the convention of The Hague have been unable to have recourse to the clauses thereof, which direct them to tender their mediation immediately upon the outbreak of hostilities, asks the powers signatory of the convention of The Hague to intervene in order to facilitate the restoration of peace, and instructs the Interparliamentary Bureau to bring the present resolutions to the knowledge of the said powers."

The court supplemented the resolutions with a vigorous peace speech in French. He said the resolutions had not been couched in language as strong as he desired, and he offered an amendment that the expression "at the proper time" be substituted. A vote was taken on the amendment and it carried by 25 to 31.

Smile Deputy Starts a Wrangle

The count then offered a second amendment authorizing the powers to proffer their peaceful offices to Japan and Russia individually and collectively. This amendment was adopted by a vote of 25 to 31.

Delegate La Fontaine, a Socialist deputy from Belgium, introduced a substitute amendment expressing regret that the powers had not already offered mediation and declaring that their failure to do so was nothing less than a failure in their duty as signatories of The Hague conference.

Delegate Von Klabbe of Denmark attacked the La Fontaine amendment, and his address was the most spirited of the session.

The La Fontaine amendment was lost by a vote of 24 to 28.

The original amendment was then adopted.

COUNT APPONYI'S SPEECH IN ENGLISH MUCH ADMIRER

According to the comments Tuesday of the delegates to the Interparliamentary Union, on the response of Count Apponyi Monday night in response to the toast to Hungary proposed by President Francis, the address has placed him in an even more predominant position in the peace movement than he occupied before.

The United States Secret Service Bureau has taken up the pursuit of Keithley.

INTERPARLIAMENTARY UNION'S DEMAND FOR PEACE BETWEEN RUSSIA AND JAPAN

"The interparliamentary peace conference, shocked by the horrors of the war that is being waged in the far East between two civilized states, and deploring that the powers signatory of the convention of The Hague have been unable to have recourse to the clauses thereof, which direct them to tender their mediation immediately upon the outbreak of hostilities, asks the powers signatory of the convention of The Hague to intervene immediately with the belligerents in order to facilitate the restoration of peace, and instructs the interparliamentary bureau to bring the present resolutions to the knowledge of the said powers."

ROOSEVELT
MUST DISPOSE OF THE LENA

Washington Department Officials Couldn't Unwind Themselves From the Meshes of Their Own Red Tape and So Called on the President.

INSPECTOR REPORTS THAT REPAIRS ARE REQUIRED

Admiral Goodrich Reports Six Weeks Are Needed to Put Boat in Shape—Captain's Request Would Mean Eight Months' Delay.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—After wrestling for two days with the problem of what disposition to make of the Russian transport, Lena, now in port at San Francisco, the officials of the state and navy and commerce and labor departments have turned the whole matter over to the President.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 13.—The Russian auxiliary cruiser Lena remains anchored in the harbor and is likely to stay here several days while the slowly moving wheels of government procedure revolve to ward a final disposition of her case.

United States Inspector of Steamships John K. Bolger has inspected the ship and reports repairs are needed. It is also reported that the commander has asked permission to put in two new boilers, which would require at least eight months to ward a final disposition of her case.

The presence of the Japanese residents of this city. Subscriptions to the Japanese war fund, which have been collected at the local consulate since the outbreak of the hostilities, increased more than $500 today. Heretofore they have been extremely light.

The most sensational incident occurred when a score of Japanese marched to the consulate and offered their services to form a volunteer company, and attempt to destroy the Russian vessel with dynamite. The offer was made in good faith, and the volunteers were in deadly earnest.

The Japanese consul, who is praising them for their patriotic intentions, cautioned them against any demonstration against the Russian cruiser or crew while the matter were in this neutral port.

SHIPPERS ARE ALARMED.

The mysterious mission of the Lena to this side of the ocean at a time when she is greatly needed in the Orient has alarmed shipping men.

Without questioning the statement of Capt. Berlinsky that his engines and boilers require repairs, it is not generally regarded as reasonable that the cruiser would have run across the Pacific for an overhauling. The feeling is strong that the vessel left her sisters of the Vladivostok fleet and sailed out alone in quest of merchantmen loaded with valuable foodstuffs and other material for Japan, and declared by decree of the czar, to be contraband of war.

NOT ADAPTED TO WAR.

The warship is of a class that would give a poor account of herself in a naval battle. Her guns are of medium caliber, but her immense sides loom high and entirely unprotected out of the water. She was formerly an army transport and before that a passenger vessel. Her batteries are all exposed on her deck. With such armament and with her speed she is well fitted to bring merchantmen to, although not suitable for a fight with any class of warship.

Whether the vessel is ordered to leave immediately or sail after having repaired her engines and boilers, the danger to commerce between this coast and the Orient remains. She can never be interfered with along the coast provided she remains outside the limit of three nautical miles. She can dodge into a port at any time for 24 hours to get provisions or coal, though presumably to carry her to her nearest port, and the nearest port of Russia is far away.

JAPANESE DEMAND DENIED.

Japanese Consul Kikobori Hayen called upon Collector of the Port Stratton and claimed the right to send Japanese inspectors aboard the cruiser to examine her engines and boilers. His demand was denied by Stratton and he was informed that the United States could carry out that part of the program. He was also told that the Russian would not be ordered out without investigation.

The Lena is anchored between the four army transports lying in Mission Bay and the new battleship Ohio. In fact, she is only about 500 yards from the big guns of the battleship which was accepted by the government on Saturday.

Navigating officer Speckneff, who spoke excellent English, said as to the ship's errand in port:

"We were sent to Vladivostok to transfer the troops home when the war broke out. The Lena is not a warship. We cannot fight."

CAME ONLY FOR REPAIRS.

"Needing repairs, we were first ordered back to the Baltic. Afterward these orders were changed, and we have come here because it is the nearest port in which we could get the new boilers we need."

Being asked how long he would remain here, Officer Speckneff said:

"We expect orders from our naval representative at Washington who has just been advised of our arrival. It is probable that he will ask the American government for its permission to remove the guns from our deck and allow the vessel to remain here until the repairs can be finished."

When asked how long he thought that would require, he said:

"I will probably remain here until the war is over. We expect that the officers and crew will be sent home by way of New York."

And then he added:

"It is hard to be so far away from home when one's country is at war."

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

The Post-Dispatch on St. Louis Day, Thursday, Sept. 15, will print but two editions, viz:

Midday Edition and Regular Edition, the latter going to press earlier than the usual hour so that employees may attend the Fair during the day.

HOSPITAL HAS NEW
"GIRL OF MYSTERY"

"Bessie" Cannot Tell Her Other Name and Has No Idea Where She Lives.

Unable to tell her name or where she lives, a young girl, well dressed and apparently of good family, is in the observation ward at the City Hospital waiting until the police can find her relatives, or until she recovers her memory sufficiently to supply the needed information.

The girl is about 20 years old. She is neatly dressed in black and wears a black chiffon hat. She was found at 8:30 o'clock Monday night near Seventh street and Lucas avenue by Patrolman Parks. She accompanied the patrolman to the Carr street station, but could tell nothing about herself.

From broken sentences which she has spoken since she was found, the police believe that her first name is "Bessie."

The girl also talked incoherently about a "Rev. Dr. Lane," who she said lived on Washington avenue.

She also mentioned being taken to a railroad station and making a journey on a Sunday. She said she was in Chicago and was suggested to her by some one who came from Chicago or some place near there.

She had in her possession a card bearing the name "Emilbert Voerster" of 414 Washington avenue.

Dr. Voerster said Tuesday that a girl answering the description of the one taken to the city hospital, came to his office for help, but learned nothing. He prescribed for her, but learned nothing. He prescribed for her, but learned nothing.

Except that her name was "Bessie," she should have over. The Lena is not a warship. We cannot fight.

CAME ONLY FOR REPAIRS.

"Needing repairs, we were first ordered back to the Baltic. Afterward these orders were changed, and we have come here because it is the nearest port in which we could get the new boilers we need."

Being asked how long he would remain here, Officer Speckneff said:

"We expect orders from our naval representative at Washington who has just been advised of our arrival. It is probable that he will ask the American government for its permission to remove the guns from our deck and allow the vessel to remain here until the repairs can be finished."

"I will probably remain here until the war is over. We expect that the officers and crew will be sent home by way of New York."

And then he added:

"It is hard to be so far away from home when one's country is at war."

KILLED BY JOY
OF SEEING MOTHER

Joy at greeting his mother after a separation of seven years caused so great a shock to Emmanuel Miner of Wichita, Kan., at Alton, Tuesday, that he had hardly spoken ten words to her before he sank in a chair and expired before a physician could reach him.

As a result of her son's sudden death Mrs. Miner is overcome with grief, and fears are entertained that she will not withstand the shock.

Seven years ago Miner left Alton and went to Kansas for his health, settling at Wichita. As he expected, he regained his strength and continued to remain there. For the past few years he has written his mother that he intended visiting her during the World's Fair and recently she has been counting the days until he should arrive.

Miner reached Alton Tuesday morning and, once hurried to his mother's house at the corner of Ninth and Belle streets.

There he greeted her affectionately. The son appeared to be unusually excited, and when he offered her a chair, he sat down, apparently in a state of collapse. Mrs. Miner called a physician, but before he could reach the house the young man was dead.

He was 23 years old.

EXPULSION FROM TOWN

Angry Residents of Indiana Village
Take Steps to Prevent Further Race Trouble.

CARLISLE, Ind., Sept. 12.—Jasper Hammond, colored, while resisting arrest, was shot and seriously wounded by Constable T. E. Johnson. Hammond was trying to renew a quarrel with other negroes. Last night a mob gathered and drove all the nonresident negroes out of town. Later the mob visited the home of every negro family. Every house except one, occupied by an old family, was deserted. These people were not molested, but doors and windows in the other houses were demolished.

KEARNS IS OUT OF SENATORIAL FIGHT IN UTAH

He Says the Mormon Church Dominates the Legislature and Will Name His Successor Unless the New Gentle Party Scores Success.

IS RESULT OF VISIT OF THE PRESIDENT'S EMISSARY

Political Rivalry Between Kearns and Smoot Is Now at Fever Heat and They Will Struggle for State Supremacy.

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 12.—Evidence accumulated showing that the Republican national leaders have entered into a compact with the Mormons. Smoot is to be elected in the Senate, and the Mormons in payment will endeavor to give Utah, Wyoming and Idaho to Roosevelt.

Because of this compact, and charging that the Mormon Church through Senator Reed Smoot has assumed full control of politics in Utah, and that no man can be elected to the United States Senate without the consent of the Mormon Church, Senator Thomas Kearns has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

Feeling between Kearns and Smoot has been strong for more than a year. Each has been strengthening his organization. Kearns for the purpose of securing a re-election and Smoot for the purpose of defeating him. Smoot succeeded in routing the Kearns forces in the preliminary battles, and by controlling the state convention named the state ticket.

Kearns Bolted the Ticket and Party.

Kearns and his paper, the Salt Lake Tribune, refused to support the state ticket, and the last week joined the new Gentle party, of which the Tribune has become the organ. It is now certain that Kearns will direct his energies entirely against Smoot and the Mormon Church in politics. Associated with Kearns in the new Gentle movement are some of the wealthiest men of the state.

Kearns is a millionaire and has other millions with him. These men have pledged their lives and property to the cause and have publicly proclaimed their intention of fighting the matter to a successful issue. Sutherland, former congressman from Utah, is Smoot's candidate for Kearns' seat, and doubtless will be elected if the Republicans carry the state. Sutherland claims to be a Gentle, although he was born a Mormon.

Assert Clarkson Represented President.

Members of the Republican state committee are authority for the statement that Gen. John H. Clarkson, surveyor of the port of New York, made his recent trip to Salt Lake as a special representative of the national administration. Clarkson was in Salt Lake 10 days, leaving only last week. Clarkson ignored the Gentle element during his visit. Smoot's friends are now openly asserting that the apostle has been given to understand that the state of Utah is in delicate evening tones, and more substantial colorings for street and afternoon wear. The state of Utah is in delicate evening tones, and more substantial colorings for street and afternoon wear. The state of Utah is in delicate evening tones, and more substantial colorings for street and afternoon wear.

PORTLAND SEEKS EXHIBITS.

Lewis and Clark Exposition Opens Offices at the Fair.
Henry E. Doech, director of exhibits of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, to be held in Portland, Ore., next year, has established headquarters at the Oregon building at the World's Fair and begun an active canvass to induce exhibitors here to participate in the Lewis and Clark Fair on the coast.

Already Japan has applied for a large amount of space at Portland, and many other oriental countries are following suit. Mr. Doech believes the large attendance from Asiatic countries, as well as the western part of the United States, will make Portland Fair one of great opportunities to exhibitors.

Other Lewis and Clark officials in St. Louis are John A. Wakefield, director of concessions and admissions, who is chief of concessions here, and H. B. Hardt, assistant to Mr. Doech.

STARTS STARTER DAD'S FIST
Tranier McCue Sorry He Mixed With Delmar Official.
Starter J. Barrett Dade of the Delmar track is a mighty husky chap, and that he will fight when aroused was proven yesterday.

W. McCue, trainer of the mare Aline S., objected to the manner in which his charge had been handled by Dade in the third race and instructed that the starter might have had an ulterior motive in failing to let Aline S. better sound.

Dade thought he had done pretty well in getting the mare off as well as he did, considering the fact that she had acted badly and caused considerable trouble at the post.

McCue met the starter in the infield of the racetrack shortly after the race, and the two men opened a conversation. Dade handed him a stiff right in the jaw. McCue went down and out. Dade's hand right swelled up considerably after the scrap. Barrett will hardly be able to play handball for some time. He is an inveterate handball player and usually spends his spare morning hours in the Missouri A. C. courts. Trainer McCue's badge has been revoked.

Boys' 75c and $1.00 Blouses for 31c
A Sale Sure to Interest Many Mothers

Here is a striking illustration of the power of a lump sum of money when a manufacturer needs the cash. At a surprisingly low figure we bought the entire surplus stock of Fall Blouses that a New York manufacturer had on hand.

These Blouses are of fine woven Madras, Garner's finest Percales and excellent Chambrays. Stylish in appearance. In manufacture, all that you can wish for. As the quantity is very liberal we can fit every figure and suit every taste.

WE LIMIT THE QUANTITY TO NOT MORE THAN 6 TO A CUSTOMER.

BROTHER'S "GIFT" BEARS INTEREST

Debt Thirteen Years Old Must Be Paid, Despite Statute of Limitations.

OBLIGATION WAS RECOGNIZED

Justice Robertson Decides Difficult Case Between Brothers Whose Conditions Have Been Reversed.

A decision has just been rendered by Justice John C. Robertson of 806 North Market street in a suit between two brothers over the payment of a debt contracted thirteen years ago, since which time the fortunes of the two men have been reversed, resulting in an entire change of their financial conditions.

John G. Smith, one of the brothers involved in the suit, loaned $300 to Edward Smith in 1890 and 1891. John G. Smith was then president of a manufacturing company while his brother was in straightened circumstances. Afterwards Edward repaid $300 of the loan, leaving $300 unpaid.

Within a few years Edward Smith became prosperous, while his brother suffered financial reverses. Nothing was said by either regarding the debt of $300 until it became outlived by the statute of limitations.

In April of the present year Edward Smith visited his brother John and slipped a check into his hand. This check was for $300 and written on one corner were the words, "A gift."

John Smith gave credit on each of the two notes he had received from his brother at the time of the loan made thirteen years before, thus reviving them. Then Smith began suit against his brother, Edward, for $341. Interest on $300 for the period during which it had been unpaid, which suit Justice Robertson was called to decide.

Justice Robertson held that the "gift" of a check equal to the amount of the old indebtedness, even though the latter was outlived, was recognition of the obligation, and that John Smith was entitled to the interest. The verdict was therefore given in his favor.

REPUBLICANS CLAIM 30,000 IN MAINE

Party Managers Say Plurality Exceeds Expectations—Democrats Say It Shows Apathy.

RECORD OF REPUBLICAN PLURALITIES IN MAINE.

1870—Hayes plurality	15,239
1880—Garfield's plurality	4,225
1884—Blaine's plurality	15,300
1888—Harrison's plurality	22,390
1892—Harrison's plurality	14,587
1896—McKinley's plurality	45,777
1900—McKinley's plurality	33,384
1902—Cox, Hill's plurality	21,460

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 12.—The Republicans of Maine were successful in the state election yesterday, their candidate for governor, William T. Cobb of Rockland, being elected by a plurality which probably will be as high as 30,000. This estimate is based upon returns tabulated today from 850 cities, towns and plantations out of a total of 322, which give Cobb 71,085 and Cyrus W. Davis of Waterville, Democrat, 41,162.

This probable plurality is about 300 smaller than that by which the Republican ticket was successful in Maine four years ago. The Democrats are claiming that the vote indicates an increase in their party strength in the state.

On the other hand, the Republican leaders had declared that they expected only from 15,000 to 20,000 plurality. All the present congressmen, who are Republicans, were re-elected by pluralities ranging from 500 to 800.

Incomplete returns indicate that the Democrats will have several seats in the legislature, whereas they now have only one, and that they will make a slight gain over the present 20 members of the State House of Representatives.

CHURCH SUES WOMAN'S ESTATE

Ask That Promise of Decedent Be Recognized by Court.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 13.—Is a dead woman's promise binding as against her estate is a question for Judge Bassett of the probate court to decide. The affirmative side of the question is presented by St. Bernard's Catholic Church and the negative side by the heirs of the late Susan Ryan, who died in 1902 and left an estate valued at $50,000.

According to the testimony of Rev. Father Summons and some of the clergy connected by St. Mary's parish, the woman promised to pay for an altar rail for the new church on the condition that the rail was built at a cost of $100. Mrs. Ryan died before she had paid for the work. Nothing was in her will to provide for the fulfillment of her promise, and suit was instituted to recover the amount.

FOUND DYNAMITE, NOT HOG.

Moweaqua Fears Robbers Have Bold Designs on the City.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MOWEAQUA, Ill., Sept. 12.—Discovery of a box containing 48 sticks of dynamite has excited the residents of this place, and the general belief is that it was deposited by robbers who had designs on a bank in this vicinity. Thirty-six of the sticks were capped for use.

The dynamite was found near the Illinois Central Railroad bridge by W. J. Brookshire, a farmer, who was searching for a hog. The box was inclosed in a sack.

Fibroid Tumors Cured.

A distressing case of Fibroid Tumor, which baffled the skill of Boston doctors. Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, Mass., in the following letter tells how she was cured, after everything else failed, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Hayes' First Letter Appealing to Mrs. Pinkham for Help:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been under Boston doctors' treatment for a long time without any relief. They tell me I have a fibroid tumor. I cannot sit down without great pain, and the soreness extends up my spine. I have bearing-down pains both back and front. My abdomen is swollen, and I have had flowing spells for three years. My appetite is not good. I cannot walk or be on my feet for any length of time. The symptoms of Fibroid Tumor given in your little book accurately describe my case, so I write to you for advice."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Note the result of Mrs. Pinkham's advice—although she advised Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, to take her medicine—which she knew would help her—her letter contained a mass of additional instructions as to treatment, all of which helped to bring about the happy result.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Some time ago I wrote to you describing my symptoms and asked your advice. You replied, and I followed all your directions carefully, and to-day I am a well woman.

"The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system. I can walk miles now."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth five dollars a drop. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female trouble of any kind to give it a faithful trial."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Mountains of gold could not purchase such testimony—or take the place of the health and happiness which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought to Mrs. Hayes.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women; all ovarian troubles; tumors; inflammations; ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb; backache; irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation. Surely the volume and character of the testimonial letters we are daily printing in the newspapers can leave no room for doubt.

Mrs. Hayes at her above address will gladly answer any letters which sick women may write for fuller information about her illness. Her gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so genuine and heartfelt that she thinks no trouble is too great for her to take in return for her health and happiness.

Truly it is said that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women, and no other medicine; don't forget this when some druggist wants to sell you something else.

$5000 FORFEIT If we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

POLICE HEROISM SAVES MANY LIVES

Scores Taken From Burning Tenement, But Seven Met Death in Smoke and Flame.

FIGHT BACK THE FRANTIC MEN

Badly Burned Fireman Carried Seven Persons From Fourth Story Down Long Ladder.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Seven persons in one family were burned to death and six others were injured seriously in a fire which partially destroyed a tenement building at 28 and 70 First street, early today. More than 20 families were asleep in the building, and thrilling acts of bravery accompanied their rescue, which was accomplished by firemen and the police. The dead are:

ONDA KONOVITSCH, his wife.
ANNA KONOVITSCH, grown son.
KONOVITSCH, second son.
UNIDENTIFIED MAN.
Twin babies of Konovitsch family, 3 months old.

It was shortly after 2 o'clock when the alarm was given. Owing to the danger of the fire in such a crowded section police reserves from three precincts were hurried to the scene. Within the few moments that had elapsed the flames were found to have gained great headway from the first floor, and the neighborhood was in a panic of terror.

Women and children were being dropped from the windows of the lower floors, and dozens of grown persons were fighting in the hallways to reach the open air.

A policeman clambered to the roof of an adjoining building, and by clinging to the cornice with the smoke pouring into his face reached down to the windows of the fifth floor and raised seven children, who were handed out by their parents. Another officer, winding about his head, entered the building from below and rolled down the stairs on the body of a half-suffocated man. Three times the officer came back carrying two persons in his arms. Then he fell, exhausted.

Meantime ladders had been run to the top of the building and firemen, clambering up, rescued at least twenty tenement dwellers preparing to jump. Men sought to reach the firemen first, but were thrust back, while the women and children were taken out.

One fireman, although badly burned, took seven persons from a single window on the fourth floor. When the work of rescue had been completed and the flames had been under control thirty men hurriedly searched the crowded flat and on the fourth floor they found seven dead.

The financial loss was small.

HUNT RENAMED FOR CONGRESS

Eleventh District Primary Held With an Unusually Light Vote.

Polled.

There was no opposition to John T. Hunt in the Eleventh district Democratic primary election Monday afternoon for the selection of a candidate for Congress. Congressional committee members were present.

The vote in all the wards was light, the average being from 14 to 50 votes in each district. In the First district of the Twenty-first ward only one vote was cast. For committee members in the Eleventh ward, T. J. Dalton and David E. J. Noonan opposed Messrs. Sheehan and Behler. The latter two were victorious. In the Twenty-seventh ward Messrs. Crabb and Smith won over Messrs. Seeger and John J. McCarthy.

The committee was selected as follows: Second ward, Henry Messman and John P. Roy; Third ward, James J. Moore and G. W. Abbing; Sixteenth ward, John Hodnett and D. Naughton; Seventeenth ward, J. J. Sheehan and D. Naughton; Eighteenth ward, J. P. Riley and John J. Sullivan; Twentieth ward, Henry Messman and John Griffin; Twenty-first ward, Thomas A. Carroll; Twenty-second ward, O'Brien and James A. Lee and John Mc. Auliffe; Twenty-seventh ward, Robert A. Crabb and James Smith.

FEDERAL COURT ON EAST SIDE

Judge J. O. Humphrey Arranging for the Opening in November.

The first term of federal court to be held in East St. Louis will convene there in November in accordance with the bill, which Congressman Rodenberg succeeded in getting through the last congress. Arrangements will be made for a court room and six office rooms in the Metropolitan building on Missouri avenue. There will be offices for the clerk, district attorney and United States marshal, and two additional rooms for the grand and petit juries.

Judge J. O. Humphrey of the United States court for the Southern district of Illinois, and Chief Deputy United States Marshal E. F. Watts are in East St. Louis making the arrangements for the court.

At a meeting with some of the members of the East St. Louis bar they stated the criminal docket, which in the past has been tried in Cairo, Ill., and that the civil docket will be just what the attorneys make it. They also stated that cases would not be transferred from East St. Louis to Springfield, but would be tried where filed.

Magnificent Display Tonight.

Pain will give another of his great fireworks exhibitions in the Stadium, World's Fair grounds, at 7:45 p. m. Pyrotechnical portraits of Gov. Lanham of Texas and Gov. Warfield of Maryland.

Tall Boy of 16 Missing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Herber of 2324 Carolina street have asked the Post-Dispatch to aid them in finding their son, Otto, aged 16, who left home Sunday afternoon and who has not been heard from by them since. They know of no reason why he should wish to stay away and wink and as being tall for his age, has black hair and blue eyes, and wore a dark mixed suit, black shoes and a black hat.

He was last seen at home on Sunday.

In Honor of Texas.

Pain's fireworks in the Stadium, World's Fair grounds, at 7:45 tonight, in honor of Texas week. Pyrotechnical portraits of Governors Lanham of Texas and Warfield of Illinois.

Resigns From Burlington Service.

"BALDY" RYAN WON FORTUNE AT DUBLIN

Nine Straight Killings in Two Days Pay Expenses on His Journey Through Europe.

STARTED WITH "PIKER" BET Get-Rich-Quick Promoter Will Return Home After a Tour of Switzerland.

BY RICHARD D. WALSH. DUBLIN, Ireland, Sept. 12.—John J. "Baldy" Ryan, the St. Louis get-rich-quick promoter and turf plunger, who is now on his way to Switzerland to make a brief Alpine tour before returning to explain certain matters to a St. Louis jury, created a sensation at the Ashtown races here by picking the winners in nine straight races on two consecutive days, making enough money to cover the entire expenses of his European journey.

He had arrived with his handsome daughter from Berlin, and looked very gay in a faultlessly-made New York suit. The betting system and general surroundings were entirely new to him, but he soon became engaged in an animated conversation with an English bookmaker, and made a modest wager of £10, which he won.

This was the first bet he ever made in "Ireland and Europe," as Statesman Jim Gromm would say, and the fact that he won tickled him immensely. He followed this up by winning four other bets in succession, and quit the day a handsome winner.

On the second day he was equally successful, winning four bets, which were all he made. In the two days he made nine bets and won them all. This was remarkable in view of the fact that he had no knowledge of horses or jockeys. He picked the winners by intuition, and he never made a bet until the horses were going to the post. When he selected one on its general appearance. The result showed how good his judgment in such matters was.

Ryan was also a prominent figure at the horse races while he was in the early part of that week. At the "show" there was exposed for sale a magnificent "haunting car," the product of a Dublin factory. After spirited bidding on the part of some Englishmen and continental gentlemen, it was knocked down to Ryan, who will have it shipped to America at once.

It will create a sensation some day on Lindell boulevard, as it is a unique and beautiful specimen of its kind. After the Ashtown races Ryan went to Killarney before proceeding to Switzerland. When his tour of the Alps is over, he expects to sail from London some time in October, and will go direct to St. Louis.

MORGAN TO SHOW COLLIES. Financial King Bought Four Dogs Being Shipped Here.

J. Pierpont Morgan, the financial king, paid $10,000 for four collies which had just arrived from England and were being shipped to St. Louis to be exhibited at the World's Fair here. The dogs were the property of W. L. Mason of Freshfield, a suburb of Liverpool.

Mr. Morgan's kennel manager saw the dogs shortly after they were taken off the ship and immediately entered into negotiations. The collies are Champion Parbold Parity, Champion Parbold Parity, Champion Parbold Parity, and Champion Parbold Parity. Mr. Morgan's kennel manager said that the dogs would be shown at St. Louis, but not in competition. Mr. Morgan is the most extensive collie fancier in this country.

SLOW FIRE IN COAL ELEVATOR ATCHOO! ATCHOO! HAY FEVER IS HERE

Firemen Deal With One Blaze Where There Is No Damage by Water.

A fire which lasted four hours and which required hard work on the part of the firemen caused only $25 damage in the coal elevator of the St. Louis Transit Co.'s power house at Broadway and Salisbury street Tuesday morning.

The fire was discovered at 8 o'clock and it was 7 o'clock before the alarm was struck out.

As there was nothing but coal stored in the elevator, the flames of water played by the firemen caused no damage, but rather had a good effect.

There were no tons of coal in the elevator, but as it was slow-burning coal the fire department easily prevented the flames from spreading by playing several streams.

Spontaneous combustion caused the blaze.

Bruised by Fall From Car.

As the result of a fall from a Compton Heights car, while on his way home, Joe. O'Grady, of 1212 Longfellow boulevard is at the City Hospital, suffering from cuts and bruises about the face. The fall occurred late Monday night.

"STUMPED"

Coffee Put Her in Bad Shape.

One of the worst coffee experiences is the case of a Danville, Va., lady who says: "I have been married 5 years and always had good health until the Spring after my second child was born in 1901, my health began giving away. I was a coffee drinker and commenced having many pains about my heart after eating, was very nervous and kept getting worse until June."

"My physician could not help me and I took everything I could think of but kept getting worse, as in August I saw another doctor who said I had nervous dyspepsia but who did not help me any and by that time I was so nervous it seemed I would go crazy. I did not have energy for anything and could hardly eat anything and became so weak I could hardly walk, had to stop nursing my baby and in September I changed my physician again. The next one said I had female trouble, that I would have to be operated on but I would not have that so I kept changing physicians and some would say one thing and some another and still I got worse until December, when I commenced with nervous convulsions and was taken down in bed."

"My husband got the very best doctors that could be found in our reach. I used stomach pump for 12 months and was in bed three months straight and I would get so nervous I could not speak, but I never suspected the coffee I would go for and not touch solid food. By March, 1902, I was so nervous I could not eat anything I wanted, had fainting spells, my eyes were so weak I could not do any sewing and I took bottle after bottle of medicine until last Christmas having heard so much about Postum, I decided to try it.

"I commenced using Postum—made it strong and drank it three times a day and made the most wonderful change you ever heard of. It was not long until I stopped using my stomach pump, was not constipated any more and I have not bought a pill or any medicine since. It completely cured me and not only this but we all think it a delicious drink—finest we have ever tasted."—Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Every Morning on the Cars You Can Hear Miniature Bombardment of Port Arthur.

MOUNTAIN AIR IS A CURE

An Alkaloid Has Been Discovered, But Must Be Used Under Medical Direction.

CAUSES AND CURE OF AGGRAVATING HAY FEVER

Cause, pollen from the ragweed. Victims, those of the Caucasian race are especially sensitive. The new cure, alkaloid from the glands of sheep, to be used only under physician's care. Other cures, abstinence from highly seasoned foods, strong drink and change of climate.

Passengers on trolley cars the past few days might be suspected of trying to read aloud the names of the Russian generals or the captured outposts of Port Arthur from the war news, so frequent are the sneezes that echo through the aisles.

This sneezing, like yawning, seems to be catching, for after a prolonged silence one of the afflicted will let out a sound midway between a snort and a bellow and straightway a half dozen of his fellow passengers will come in until grand apertures of sneezes ripple up and down the car.

While the doctor may say, "Oh, nothing but hay fever," the sufferer is apt to lack faith in the statement of the case.

Although called hay fever, medical men have decided that hay has nothing to do with the disease. Almost universally they blame the common rag-weed, hog-weed or worm-weed, whose pollen now being scattered by the autumnal breezes has a distressing effect on the human mucous membrane. The pollen causes an irritation that leads to inflammation of the membrane lining the nasal cavity and affects the nerve endings which lie under the membrane. This nerve irritation leads to the violent sneezing which are one symptom of the disease.

Ragweed Spreads Sneezing Craze.

Late in August the ragweed, Ambrosia artemisiifolia, comes into flower and spreads its pollen far and wide. As the flower is prompt in its appearance, sufferers from hay fever are accustomed to arrange their affairs in advance and get to the mountains or seashore resorts, where they find relief.

While it is not exclusively a disease of the rich, the man who works in the fields alongside the sneezing sufferer is seldom troubled, for hay fever affects only those who work chiefly with their brains and possess a highly organized nervous system. Nearness to pine woods is usually a preventive of the disease, and hay fever may be given the credit for popularizing the region about Lake George and the Adirondacks where thousands go every year to stave off an annual attack of the disease.

Those of limited means who cannot drop everything and run to the mountains at the first sneeze, have yet a remedy through a recent medical discovery.

A Japanese chemist, working with one of the obscure glands of the sheep, isolated an alkaloid that has the wonderful power of acting on the nerves, contracting the blood vessels and constricting them so that no matter how great the irritation, no blood flows through the affected part of the body. So powerful is this alkaloid that it is rapidly coming into use in surgical operations which its use renders bloodless. One drop of a tenth per cent solution of this alkaloid will instantaneously drive the blood from a bloodshot eye, owing to the powerful constricting effect of this alkaloid on the blood vessels.

Like most other alkaloids, this hay-fever cure must be used only under a physician's guidance, for its action on the heart is very powerful, and danger would attend its indiscriminate use.

"Hayfever is, strictly speaking, a disease of the nervous system," said Dr. Oscar P. Behrens, "and a predisposition is necessary. No person can catch hayfever from another, and it is further peculiar in that it affects only the Caucasian race."

City Dwellers Have Monopoly.

Only those of highly developed nervous temperaments are subject to it. A peculiar neurotic condition of the system is necessary before the irritation will take hold, and the disease is almost entirely restricted to city people.

"The part affected is the Schneiderian membrane which covers the nasal cavity, and the irritation may be external, as in some diseased condition of the body, the case of the pollen of the ragweed or urtic acid in the blood is a frequent cause, as are also abnormalities in the structure of the nose."

"Hyperesthetic rhinitis, as medical men call hayfever, usually comes on in August, though there is a form of it that attacks those who are subject to the disease in June, when it is called 'Rose cold' or 'June cold'."

"It used to be that persons afflicted with hayfever had to get away from civilization—mountain and seashore air is nature's own remedy for the disease—but this is not the only cure since the discovery of a peculiar alkaloid that is now used extensively in combating this affliction. This cure is, however, not to be considered a household remedy, for its use is not attended with danger."

"In any treatment of hay fever—or ragweed fever as it should properly be called—is of the utmost importance. If the cause is internal, the severity of the attack can often be palliated by a strict regulation of the sufferer's food. The amount of uric acid in the blood may be materially decreased by cutting down the amount of meat eaten, and if possibly doing without it altogether. Rich and highly-spiced food should be entirely eliminated, as should acid and alcoholic drinks."

"Some persons are subject to hay fever because of a deformation of the nose. I have one patient whose nose is so sensitive that he tells me he has to sneeze whenever he goes to the cinema, to the church, to his fiancée, and that he can never kiss her without celebrating the deed in a volley of sneezes. I have called this the person afflicted with hay fever is to consult a physician, as some remedies will not afford as quick or sure relief as the use of the proper spray for the nostrils."

LAW VS. SWORN LAW ENFORCERS CLAYTON ISSUE

Attorney-General Crow Finds That His Fight With Forces of Disorder in County Is No Less a Fight With Officers.

BULLFIGHTERS ACQUITTED; INJUNCTION CASE PENDING

State Prosecuting Officers Withdraw
From Case When County Prosecutor
Gave It Precedence Over Injunction
—Situation Unparalleled in State History.

Accommodating himself to the view of Judge McElhinney of the St. Louis County Circuit Court, that a bullfight is not a bullfight unless somebody or something is hurt, Attorney-General Crow undertook to show in the trial of the injunction case against the bullfighters to prevent them from giving further exhibitions Tuesday that persons are hurt in the exhibition.
From Roder Meigs, president of the St.
Louis Humane Society, and Mrs. Mary Calkins of the same society he drew testimony of bullfighters having been hurt at the first exhibition, on Sunday, Sept. 5.
The determination of the bullfighters to make a stubborn legal resistance was influenced by the appearance of leading lawyers in their behalf. The defense was conducted by Judge Chester H. Krum and Thomas J. Rowe of St. Louis. The state's case was conducted by Attorney-General
E. C. Crow in person, and his assistant,
Sam B. Jeffries.

Prosecuting Attorney Johnson of St. Louis County not only took no part in the conduct of the case, but absented himself from the courtroom.

The answer which was filed by the attorney for the defense was general in its denial of allegations.

Mr. Meigs, who was the first witness, described the opening exhibition, on Sept. 4.
He said one of the fighters was injured
by a bull forcing him against the fence,
and another by being knocked off of a chair.

Mrs. Mary Calkins characterized the bull-fight as a brutal exhibition. She submitted a photograph which she had taken of a lithograph advertising the exhibition. It showed that the management characterized the show as a "Death-Defying Spectacle"

and a thrilling performance, and further set forth that 30 wild bulls had been imported for the purpose of enabling the bullfighters to defy death.

Mr. Crow tried to have her testify to what she saw at the arena on July 5 when,
because the bullfight was stopped, there was a riot and the buildings were burned.

Attorneys for the defense objected. Mr.
Crow contended that what occurred on July 5 showed that bullfighting in general was a menace to the peace and dignity of the state.

Judge McElhinney was not able to rule on the objection on the spot, and he took it under advisement, adjourning court to 1 o'clock.

Bull Fighters Won First Round.

After Judge McElhinney had eliminated
the charge of bull-baiting Monday and instructed the jury that a bull-fight was not a bullfight unless somebody or some bull was hurt or exposed to danger of death, or bodily injury, the jury before whom three bullfighters were tried in the Clayton Circuit Court Monday night acquitted them.

The three men were Felix Robert, Enrique Acuna and Lorenzo Gordito. The trial consumed the afternoon and until 1:30, when it went to the jury. The jury was out an hour.

Attorney-General Crow withdrew from the case directly after the noon recess of court. He told the judge that on account of Prosecuting Attorney Johnson insisting on trying the bullfighting charges ahead of the injunction proceedings, he would not have anything more to do with the prosecution on the bullfighting charges "at this time."

He and his assistant, Sam B. Jeffries.

The jurors who found the bull fighters not guilty were: J. M. Allee, Chris Grub-ben, Ed. Harritt, Tom Fagan, Clyde Jordan, Thomas McCrady, Jake Schumacher,
David Berg, Dr. John Ladd, Adolph Ro-

A nuisance charge will be tried against the promoters of the bull fight Wednesday.

REIGN OF LAWLESSNESS IN COUNTY IS UNPRECEDENTED

There has never been anything in the history of crime in Missouri like the war which is now raging in St. Louis County between law and order and outlawry and disorder.

Since the opening of the World's Fair
St. Louis County has been in possession of a daring and unscrupulous organization of gamblers, proprietors and proprietresses of objectionable dance halls and drinking places, with a retinue of dissolute.

They have entrenched themselves, as it were, on the borderline between the city and the county, adjacent to the World's Fair. Against them organizations for the protection of the home and the presentation of order have contended in vain.

Even with the whole power of the State of Missouri being exerted by Attorney-General Crow, under orders of Gov. Dockery, the lawbreakers are stubbornly holding their ground, still defiant and seemingly encouraged by the noticeable lack of enthusiasm of the county authorities to cooperate with the attorney-general.

Gambling in many forms has been rampant in the vicinity of Delmar Garden, near the western entrance to the Fair,
at Creve Coeur Lake and wherever, beyond the city limits, crowds can be induced to congregate.

The most flagrant objectionable exhibitions have been given, strangers have been lured and robbed and these species of crime have gone unchecked.

It is alleged that the officers upon whom devolves the prevention of crime and the arrest of criminals in the county have never made more than a feeble pretense of hampering the operations of the gamblers and others, and even the feeble pretense has been made only under compulsion.

Bull-baiting has been carried on with the sheriff as a spectator, as he has been repeatedly a witness of the other forms of lawlessness in the county.

It was the bull-baiting which brought the state into the fray, if the opposition which the law-breakers had encountered up to that time could be called a fray.

And it was partly through the quest of a woman for revenge that the forces of the state were enlisted in the fight.

The woman is Mrs. Mariana Cervera, widow of the bull-fighter who was killed in July by Carleton Bass, an American matador, after a bull fight, in which they were both to have appeared, which was stopped by Sheriff Hencken under orders from Gov. Dockery. Bass was exonerated by the coroner's jury. Mrs. Cervera, when another bull fight was announced, exerted herself to prevent it. She went to Jefferson City and saw Gov. Dockery. Her efforts, supplementing those of members of the St. Louis Humane Society, resulted in Gov. Dockery's edict.

Sheriff Hencken to stop the exhibition,
several exhibitions were given.

Through the continued efforts of Mrs.
Cervera and others, the extraordinary situation in St. Louis County was brought so completely to the attention of Gov. Dockery that he directed Attorney-General Crow to come to St. Louis and personally take charge of the fight on the gamblers and criminals.

He was not welcomed on his arrival at Clayton, and has not had the co-operation of the county authorities since. Some of his orders Sheriff Hencken has ignored.

He is now in an attitude of sullen defiance toward the attorney-general.

The bullfighters have been stopped by criminal proceedings and an injunction, but the bullfighters express confidence that they will not be convicted in the criminal proceedings and that the temporary injunction will be dissolved.

Some of the more objectionable places have been closed because of the pressure exerted upon Sheriff Hencken by Attorney-General Crow, but it is not doubted that they will reopen as soon as the pressure has been withdrawn from the sheriff, unless a way is found to keep them closed other than through the sheriff.

From the beginning the gamblers and other lawbreakers have boasted that they were immune from interference, and have assured patrons that there would be no molestation.

It is notorious that men of this class make a practice of procuring immunity by the liberal use of money.

One of the stories is that when these men began doing business in the county a fund, stated to have been between $50,000 and $100,000, was made up by a group of the proprietors of the more pretentious enterprises, which was to be expended in such manner as to minimize the probabilities of interference with their operations.

The usual method of men of this sort is to pay weekly salaries to persons whose good-will is worth cultivating. They are not want to haggle about terms if they are dealing with a person whose friendship they particularly covet. There are said to have been instances of as much as $500 a week being paid to a man because they liked him and wanted him to like them.

Tales are told out in the county about the assiduity with which the gamblers and their associates have cultivated the friendship of persons in St. Louis County.
Names are mentioned freely, especially about Clayton. Persons are freely and roundly denounced by name.

The law-abiding people of the county are placing their dependence in Attorney-General Crow. They have no confidence that the county authorities will rid the county of the law-breakers which infect it. The attorney-general has declared that he will rescue the county from the condition to which it has been brought by the activity of the breakers of the law and the inactivity of the officers of the law.

MAD DOG BITES BOY'S RESCUER

Man Who Saved Arthur Amberton
From Attack Refused to Reveal Name.

TWO OTHERS ARE VICTIMS
Crowd of Franklin Avenue Shoppers Scattered, Until Animal Was Shot by Policeman.

Lifted from the ground by a man who refused to tell his name, Arthur Amberton, 8 years old, of 819 North Fourteenth street, was bitten on the arm by a mad dog which was leaping to attack him.

The little boy was playing with a number of companions near Fourteenth street and Franklin avenue, when a dog which had been about that corner almost the entire day, and was at that time being pursued by a policeman and a score of men, ran toward the boy and was close enough to reach him by one more leap, when the child was suddenly lifted from the ground by the strong arms of a man who had run to his assistance.

The dog, upon seeing the child lifted from harm, attacked the man, who kicked him off. The animal's teeth penetrated the man's shoe.

After he had kicked the dog away, an effort was made by the police to ascertain the name of the man, but he refused to give it, saying he was uninjured.

The dog was pursued by Patrolman Olliver Hennessy a block farther and was shot by him at Thirtieth street and Franklin avenue.

Earlier in the afternoon the dog bit
Charles Jimmerson of 1401 Morgan street, and John Cunningham of 1033 South Broadway. Their injuries were dressed at the City Dispensary.

Great excitement was occasioned on the street during the chase. Franklin avenue is crowded a few minutes after 6 o'clock by thousands leaving the stores to go to their homes. Besides these there were many children from tenements playing about the corners.

PYRELIOPHOR FATAL TO BIRDS
Heat Concentrating Instrument at World's Fair Shows Power.

The pyreliophor at the World's Fair is playing some havoc with the birds. It is fatal to them as the Dead Sea is supposed to be. They drop dead where they fly across the focus of the concentrated rays of the sun.

The pyreliophor is the machine invented
by Father Gomez Himmady, a Portuguese scientist, which focuses the sun's rays by the use of mirrors. Only ten mirrors have been placed now, but the heat is so intense that the birds are killed as they fly across it. When all the mirrors have been placed it is expected that 4000 degrees of heat will be created.

Tire Ordinance Attacked.
The city ordinance as revised in 1900 regulating the width of tires of vehicles to be used on the city streets, is attacked in a suit filed Monday by the St. Louis Transfer Co. It is alleged to be ex post facto legislation, and is asked to be declared void.

GRAVE FEARS FOR PRINCE BISMARCK

Members of Family Have Been Summoned to Bedside—Illness Was Announced Saturday.

FRIEDRICHSHUHE, Sept. 12.—Prince
Herbert Bismarck's condition is most grave.
His sister, Countess Von Rantzau, has been summoned to join the rest of the family, who are already at Friederichshuhe.

It was announced from Friederichshuhe
Saturday that Prince Bismarck was seriously ill and that contradictory reports had been in circulation for some time regarding his condition.

According to one version, the prince's condition was hopeless and abdominal cancer was hinted at. Another report said the prince was merely suffering from ptomaine poisoning due to eating bad fish while in England several days ago.

Prince Herbert is the eldest son of the late Prince Bismarck. He was born in Berlin, Dec. 28, 1849, and married Margaret,
Countess Hoyos, in 1882.

Traveling Man Jumps to Death.
BOONE, Ia., Sept. 12.—J. P. Fenton, a traveling man from Philadelphia, while intoxicated, leaped from a second-story window of the Butler Hotel today, striking on his head. The force of the fall drove his head completely through a cellar door.
He died a few hours later. He was 46 years of age and unmarried.

SAFE-BLOWERS BEGIN BY STONING WINDOW

Police Believe They Wanted to See Whether Anyone Would Really Hear Them.

Safeblowers "cracked" the safe in the office of the Down-Draft Boiler and Machine Co. at Twenty-third and Papin streets between 1 and 4 o'clock Tuesday morning.

They obtained only a small amount of money, but it is supposed that they believed that large amounts were kept in the safe, as the "job" was done in a manner which indicated that the robbers were not new at the business.

A singular fact is that before the office was offered a window was smashed with a stone. The police think that they did this to see if the noise would attract the attention of anybody.

Findings, seemingly, that the noise was not heard, they pried open the window and entered the office.

Nitro-glycerine was used in blowing the safe. The front door was shattered, and there had no difficulty in getting at the contents, but the total contents of the safe were $25.

The discovery that the safe had been blown was made at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning.

They Will Wed in Glendale.
The marriage of Miss Frances C. Morrison, daughter of David L. Morrison of Racine, Mo., to Daniel G. Barstow of St.
Louis, will take place Wednesday noon at the home of Mr. Barstow's parents in Glendale, Mo. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Barstow will visit the Northern lakes.
On their return they will live in Glendale.

WOMAN ATTACKED BY NEGRO ROBBER

Assailant Smothers Her Cries With Pillow and Then Ransacks House, Securing Small Sum.

Mrs. Gertrude Cox of 561 North Twenty-third street, East St. Louis, was attacked and her house was ransacked by a negro at noon Tuesday.

Mrs. Cox was at home alone when the negro appeared at her door and asked if a family named Johnson lived there. Mrs.
Cox replied in the negative, and said that she and her husband occupied the house.

"Is your husband at home?" inquired the negro, and when he was told that he was not, he seized Mrs. Cox by the throat and forced her backward into the house, kicking the door shut behind him. He then smothered her cries with a feather pillow, and when she was too terrified to cry out he ransacked the house and fled.

The robber found a pocketbook containing $5 and a few trinkets.

He is described as being from 25 to 30 years old and weighing about 150 pounds.
The police are searching for him.

Joins in Jockey Club Suit.
M. E. Rountree filed a petition in Division 8 Circuit Court Tuesday to be made a co-plaintiff in the receivership proceedings recently instituted against the Union Jockey Club by John P. Collins. As a basis for his petition Rountree claims that he owns stock in Jockey Club stock, and that the association is indebted to him to the extent of $481.25.

$10.75, $12.75, $15.00, $16.50, $20.00, $22.50 and $25.00 for genuine Priestley's cravenette, also other guaranteed raincoat materials. The very latest effects, with or without capes. New collarless, belted, shirt on pleated styles. All color—tan, Oxford, black, navy, cadet and olive. All sizes from the 14-year misses to the 44 bust measure. Lengths from 44 to 52 inches.

Women's and Misses' Coats, Suits and Dresses

$5.00 to $25.00 and all the intermediate prices. You will find a complete stock of new styles for misses, ages 4 to 18 years. New "Peter Thompson" Suits and Coats, new Tourist Coats, new Russian Suits—in short, every style that is new and up to date is here in great profusion. All materials and colors. Sizes from 4 to 18 years.

$8.50 Tan Covert Coats for $3.00

A great sale of Women's Tan Covert Coats tomorrow. Our stock of medium and light weight Coats is very heavy and we've made some radical reductions to clear the stock. Mostly all are fine Tan Covert Jackets, although there are many Black Coats in the lot. Handsome materials, and all Coats are silk or satin lined throughout. Just what you need to wear these chilly evenings. Beautifully tailored and finished. About fifty different styles and all sizes.

$7.50 Mohair Walking Skirts for $2.00

This great stock is to be closed out at once. Every popular style, every color—black, blue, brown, gray, tan and cadet. Every length is here. The skirts are being sold out regardless of cost or former prices. Don't lose these for old styles—they are all fresh and clean and have been manufactured in the last three days.

Grand Opening of the Millinery Season

All the new novelties in Millinery await you here. In no previous season have we shown such a mammoth variety of new ideas. Hundreds of exquisite new creations.

$1.50 to $2.00 for ready-to-wear hats of cloth and fancy materials, in all new fall colors. An endless variety of styles.

$1.25 to $5.00 for a complete stock of misses' girls' and children's hats. All colors and fall styles, round hats, turbans and flare shapes, for dress as well as outing wear.

Almost Giving Away Summer Hats

Two hundred Summer Hats on hand. They have been divided into three lots. Impossible to describe them, sufficient to say that there are dressy hats, ready to wear, street hats and hats for outing wear. All to be sold at only a fraction of former prices, as follows:

25c for $2.50 Summer Hats. 50c for $5.00 Summer Hats. 100c for $7.50 Summer Hats.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER. Published by
THE PULITZER PUBLISHING CO., 210-212 N. BROADWAY.
Tolstoi should give Liaoyang a write-up.

Admiral Coghlan is still "a bold, courageous seaman," but he is not so much of a singer as he was.

The immoral shows and gambling dens will disappear in St. Louis County when the official ring lack of them is smashed.

The citizen of St. Louis who is promptly on hand on St. Louis day and who registers on the 21st for the November election will have very nearly done his whole duty.

REAL STATESMANSHIP.

In his speech of welcome to the Interparliamentary Union, Congressman Bartholdt uttered the maxim of common sense and humanity from which the peace movement proceeds.

"National disputes," said he, "should be settled in the same way that disputes between individuals are settled, by arbitration of courts."

The most strenuous preacher of bigstickism can find nothing to urge against this. Individuals learned after ages of bitter experience that however irreconcilable their differences might appear to themselves, their own interests required the submission of all such causes to impartial courts supported by public authority, and whose decrees should be enforced by the whole national force. Nations must learn the same lesson. The ages of violence are passing away as the sense of order is perfected. Courts must be created having jurisdiction of international issues along the same lines of equity which constitute the frame of courts for the adjudication of private disputes.

"The goal of true statesmanship," says Mr. Bartholdt, "is the prosperity and happiness of the people. Peace promotes prosperity and happiness, and war destroys it. Therefore this congress is aiding statesmanship in trying to bring about peace."

Progress is slow, but there is progress. And the Interparliamentary Union is doing the best possible work in awakening the public sentiment of the world to real, progressive statesmanship, the object of which shall be to preserve the best blood, not to pour it out in war; to do constructive not destructive work; to unfold and put to use the powers of humanity, not to exercise the primitive passions of the savage.

It is gratifying to note the development of sentiment towards making St. Louis day a general holiday, on which all business will be suspended and the attention of all citizens turned towards making the day a success. This is as it should be. St. Louis day should be made the most notable day in the history of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, of which St. Louis is the leading metropolis. This city, which has borne the chief burden in the labor of creating the greatest international exposition the world has ever seen, should, on this day, unite in celebrating and furthering its complete success, by the largest attendance in its history. Every St. Louisan who is able to do so should be within its gates on St. Louis day. East St. Louis will also observe the day as a general holiday, and the people of the other towns and villages around St. Louis will do well to add their quota to this grand celebration. St. Louis' interest is their interest.

THE MEANS AND THE END.

President Roosevelt dwells upon the achievements of his administration with strenuous pride and asks the American people to put the stamp of their approval upon all his acts.

The general defense offered for the means employed to accomplish results consists in affirmation of right motives. But it is not enough to say that, in the Panama case, for instance, "the administration behaved throughout not only with good faith, but with extraordinary patience and generosity."

This is the point in dispute and many of the ablest publicists in the United States agree that the conduct of the administration was lacking in all the elements of political morality and international good faith.

The Panama case is typical. It is peculiarly Rooseveltian. If the end justifies the means, then we may accept personal government and do away with constitutional limitations, to say nothing of moral scruples. For this, however, the people of this country are not prepared. What is done must be rightly done. A good object must be sought along the straight path of law, honor and morality. On no other terms can this country afford to do good things.

Mr. Roosevelt is on the defensive. But his defense is a general denial which does not satisfy the intelligence, much less the conscience, of the American people. The end does not justify the means, no matter how desirable the end may be. It is to this proposition that the public mind is committed. It is right for us to build the canal; it is right for the Spanish-Americans to pay their debts. But these rights must be enforced by the lawfully constituted authorities in a lawful way. President McKinley's formal repudiation of "criminal aggression" has not been forgotten.

A St. Louis clergyman, speaking on arbitration and peace, mentioned the recent grade-crossing accident, saying that it had brought a sense of horror to all who heard of it. "Yet," he said, "we read of 107,000 men killed in 10 days of conflict and carnage and are not moved by it. Such indifference to suffering might be expected among heathen nations, but among Christians it is incomprehensible." True; and so long as we entertain the "world-power" idea we shall be more and more indifferent to human suffering and demoralization.

FATAL "ERRORS IN JUDGMENT."

When the Post-Dispatch published the correspondence between the special agent of the Wabash Railway Co. and Street Commissioner Varrellmann, several days ago, there was no further question that the street commissioner's office had usurped legislative authority, in giving its written permission to the railway company to disregard the law by discontinuing the use of safety gates at certain grade crossings. Mr. Varrellmann has now returned, and does not deny that he gave this permission, but asserts that it did not extend to the Sarah street crossing, and that only the "letter of the law" was set aside, its spirit being, in his opinion, conserved by the use of watchmen instead of gates.

This was an "error in judgment" which resulted in a catastrophe which brought suffering and death into many St. Louis homes. In connection with it and with the "error in judgment" committed by the motorman and conductor of the Suburban car which was wrecked, the grand jury should not fail to note that the setting aside of the law by a responsible city official preceded the display of recklessness by men entrusted with the safe transportation of their fellow men, and that the result of this usurpation and this recklessness was death and destruction. Nothing can excuse the "error in judgment" of the car crew, but the question will arise, Would that error have been committed had not the previous "error" been made by the street commissioner?

The event should be a severe lesson to public servants as to their plain duty to enforce the law instead of violating its letter and interpreting its spirit. Had this rule been followed in this case the Sarah street horror might have been averted.

While nothing can be done to correct the errors of the past, the mayor can do much towards insuring safer conditions in the future, by enforcing precautionary measures, and working for the abolition of all grade crossings, which should be the ultimate object of all work on these lines.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

INFORMATION WANTED.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Will you please ask some one through your paper what I can feed earthworms with? I keep worms in a large box 6x10 feet and they do not live on what I was told to feed them. J. P. R.

REUNION OF BOONE DESCENDANTS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Why cannot there be a reunion of the descendants of the Boone family, of which Daniel Boone was the most prominent member, during the present Exposition? There are quite a number of them, and some of them live in St. Louis. Cannot you agitate the matter. ONE OF THE BOONES.

CARELESS WRITERS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
If some of the dear friends at home think they have been forgotten by friends visiting the greatest Exposition on earth or ever was on earth, when they read this, it will partly explain all. A single postman today told me that he has gathered up as many as fifty cards a day without the necessary 1 cent stamp placed thereon. H.

ANOTHER APPEAL FOR CHIVALRY.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I have a suggestion to offer for making St. Louis Day memorable that, without doubt, will appeal to every true citizen. Let our men prove to the strangers in our midst that the age of chivalry is not past, by not remaining seated in a street car while any woman stands, and show the true southern hospitality we are famed for by being especially attentive on that day to the women and children, and I'm sure St. Louis Day will stand effulgent in the memories of our guests. ENREQUITA.

TO CITIZENS WITH MEANS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
There are many persons in this city possessed of money but with little time to spare for recreation; there are others who have a surplus of time but little money. If these two extremes could be brought together this vacuum could be closed. I will suggest a way in which it may be relieved in measure. I will suggest one who has a little money to spare send a few dollars to be distributed among the inmates of the Old Ladies' Home, and likewise Menon's Home, to be used in the purchase of tickets to the World's Fair. The gratitude of the inmates will be their reward. SENEX.

ADVICE TO "LONESOME LOVER."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
"Lonesome Lover" asks for advice as to method of inducing lady of his choice to terms. He says, "What shall I do?" Don't do anything. Your whole trouble too that you do too much already. In the first place, you are constantly harping on matrimony. This I infer from the fact that the lady tries to change the subject. Stop it. Try to forget it, but rest assured your lady will not forget, but will become alarmed lest you become lost to her. In the second place, you call on her every night in the week, but never mind how I know, if you are in earnest about seeking advice, make your calls less frequent and, if necessary, put them out entirely, and stop for a few days if you have any sense. Do not hunt you up and drag you down to the marriage license office. A YOUNG MARRIED MAN.

UNDESIRABLE IMMIGRANTS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I do not know the law or treaties with regard to receiving criminal or defective immigrants into this country, but have no doubt many a criminal is admitted simply because he is unknown. A period of probation should be required by extending the time for deportation up to and including their naturalization and if the latter should be irregularly done for this cause as well as other crimes. By this method the defectives would be put on their good behavior for a number of years and save the country enormous expenses in caring for them. If the various nationalities in our large cities would have standing committees to report to a general committee to take this matter in hand by suggesting from time to time the best method to regulate this most difficult matter great good would result to their people by purging the defective classes from amongst them. LEONARD MATTHEWS.

ENFORCE GRADE CROSSINGS LAW.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
No one will be surprised if developments in the matter of the Sarah street disaster show the negligence of officials somewhere in the execution of their duties—just where or how does not matter. But what is of infinitely more importance, the manifest attempt by officials appointed to execute the laws, to adopt a code of their own, under which they pretend to their duty. They pass judgment on the laws they are paid to execute and decide there are better ways for the accomplishment of the given object than the execution of the law. This is a most pernicious doctrine—but one, unfortunately, widely practiced. Such led to the famous holocaust—in St. Louis, Missouri and to the Sarah street disaster. In each case certain officials, specially employed to execute certain laws or rules made it their duty to ignore the law, and to substitute their own, to vary those rules and to adopt some other method not upon the statute book.

It is to be presumed, and assumed by every executive officer, that the laws which such officer is designated to enforce have not only been prepared by experts in the particular field affected, but have been passed by the citizenry of the country, and that the officials, specially employed to execute certain laws or rules made it their duty to ignore the law, and to substitute their own, to vary those rules and to adopt some other method not upon the statute book.

Let the law be executed as it is written. Therein is the greatest safety—not only physically to the public, but financially as well. C. H. W.

E. L.—As to baths you must test yourself. They affect people differently. For starching, mix two tablespoons laundry starch with a pint of water. Boil it. Add a pint of boiling water, stirring it all the time. Add to that half a pint of boiling water, and a piece of spermaceti candle about the size of a thumb. Boil ten minutes. Strain through a piece of starch covered with boiling. Strain through a piece of cloth. Squeeze the starch out. Have the articles to be starched nearly dry, and dip them into the starch while it is yet warm. Strike the articles between the hands that the starch may be worked into the threads. Dry them in the sun, or in a cool place. Roll them in a clean, dry cloth and dampen with water. When ironing starched clothes keep the ironed covering it with wet cloth. When done, shake them. A MOMENT'S MERRIMENT

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES.

"Who discovered America?" asked the teacher of the juvenile class. "Adam and Eve," promptly replied the boy at the foot.

Mother: Bobby, this is the third time I have caught you helping yourself to cake and jam. I'm getting tired of it.

Bobby: Well, why don't you quit hanging around the pantry, then?

Tommy: Did you ever have water on the brain, Uncle John?

Uncle John (who is quite bald): No, Tommy; but why do you ask?

Tommy: Oh, I thought you did, and your hair fell in and got drowned.

"Nettie," said a mother to her five-year-old daughter, "here's a dime; go to the drug store and get me a bottle of sweet oil."

Nettie started down the street, but soon returned to ask: "About how sweet do you want it, mamma?"

Terrible.

"Why is Belle so bitter against Charlie?"

"He arose and gave her his seat in the street car."

"Why, I should have thanked him."

"She did and he said: 'Not at all. Mother always taught me to be polite to old ladies.'"

—Chicago News.

Success.

With great care and much labor a caterpillar climbed up a tall spear of grass. When he reached the top, he stood on his hind end and waved his front end in the air.

"Just as I feared," said he. "Success does not bring happiness."

But then he turned and climbed down, for the caterpillars are wiser than men.—Puck.

Strong Imagination.

Gerald: I claim to be a gentleman.

Geraldine: But we all haven't your imagination.—Town Topics.

Good Old Stories.

"There's no doubt about it, he is getting on in politics."

"He hasn't done anything in particular."

"No. But they are telling the same anecdote about him that they used to tell about Henry Clay and Daniel Webster."

A Little Later.

They had just thrown the Roman traitor from the walls.

"Did he appear to realize the enormity of his offense?" inquired C. Gracchus.

"Not at first," replied Publius Mencia.

"But a little later he seemed much cast down."

No Extra Work for Him.

"What's the reason you're so 'fraid o' travelin' in de mountains dis summer?" asked Meandering Mike.

"I jes' foun' somethin' out," answered Fiddling Pete. "De air up dere is liable to be so rarified dat it's twice as much work to breathe as it is furder down."

Every Loyal St. Louisan

Will lay business cares aside and visit the Fair next Thursday, September 15th—St. Louis Day—and participate in one of the grandest demonstrations of civic pride ever witnessed in this country. It will be a great crowd, a superb gathering, a well-dressed multitude. Those who have not yet purchased their Fall outfit will want to do so before this gala occasion. To all such we extend an invitation to visit this modern, up-to-date store, where not only quantity will be found, but quality and style as well, at lower prices than were ever before placed upon similar offerings.

Men's and Youths' Fine Fall Suits at $14.75

At this price we show the most superb values in St. Louis today. These handsome, stylish Suits come in all the season's most desirable fabrics, in all sizes to fit men and youths, and are tailored in a most satisfactory way. The coats are cut single and double-breasted, with wide collars and lapels, broad athletic shoulders, shape-retaining fronts, and are lined with a good quality of all-wool serge. The trousers are shapely, made full in thigh and legs and small at bottom. A swell suit for St. Louis Day—we invite consideration of a vast assortment of patterns, at choice.

$14.75

Boys' Dressy Suits at $3.75

Made as the little fellows like them, perfect in fit, superior workmanship. They come in Double-Breasted and Norfolk styles, in all the new shades of brown and gray mixtures and plaids, of pure all-wool Scotch, Cassimeres and tweeds; ages 5 to 16 years. Choice of a large variety of patterns, at.

$3.75

Men's Fall Hats at $2.40

Our Hat stock is very complete. It embraces all the season's best styles and most popular shapes. We'll tell you of our $2.40 line. They are made of fine fur felt, in shades of black, brown, nutria, pearl, amber and ceru, and are showing in all the prevailing soft and stiff shapes. A great value at.

Machine-Made Existence.

"Our comfortable, flavorless, machine-made existence" is vigorously and picturesquely arraigned by Miss Mary Moss in a paper entitled "Machine-Made Human Beings" in the August Atlantic. Miss Moss' scorn of the modern man who depends upon "the stenographer with the manifold typewriter," who "remembers with the mimeograph" and who "exists by grace of system and the card catalogue," is perhaps excessive, but her argument as a whole is both pungent and timely. She even considers the effect of the encroachment of machine-made taste upon the various factors in our immigrant population.

Going down fast. The Summer is behind us—Fall is before us. Sunday night was a touch of top-coat weather. And touching on Top-Coats, we can say that we don't believe any other St. Louis tailoring establishment is showing a Top-Coating array that can touch our line. The best of the best importers could produce in Top-Coatings—the softest, toughest covers, the choicest unfinished Worsteds, the most aristocratic of Cheviot Top-Coatings, are here. "WE HAVE A PHOTOGRAPH,"

Insinuates Sammy Shoestrings.

"of your tramping round 'the Fair' on St. Louis Day in those air-tight, tissue-paper sole shoes. And you don't look as if you 'looked pleasant' either."

You can't enjoy "the Fair" unless your feet are enjoying the walking. The logical conclusion then is that you won't enjoy the Fair unless your feet are in a pair of La France Women's "World's Fair Trampers"—those dainty, desirable shoes that combine ease and elegance in such a remarkable manner. $3 is the price. DANGER IN MILK.

Ordinary cow's milk is especially dangerous in the hot summer months. Disease germs flourish in it. Tuberculosis bacilli and germs that breed intestinal diseases are prevalent in milk. The health of babies and children whose sustenance depends on milk is thus gravely endangered.

Will surely interest many readers of this paper.

James G. Gray, Gibson, Mo., writes about Drake's Palmato Wine as follows: "I live in the Missouri Swamps in Dunklin County and have been sick with Malaria fever and for fifteen months a walking skeleton. One bottle of Drake's Palmato Wine has done me more good than all the medicine I have taken in that fifteen months. I am buying two more bottles to see if I can get well. Drake's Palmato Wine is the best I ever used or heard of. I feel well now after using one bottle."

A. A. Felding, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: "I had a bad case of Stomach and Indigestion, and could not sleep nor attend to my business. I used the trial bottle and two large seventy-cent bottles and can truthfully say I am entirely cured. I have advised many to write for a free trial bottle."

J. W. Moore, Monticello, Minn., makes the following statement about himself and a neighbor: "He says: Four bottles of Drake's Palmato Wine has cured me of catarrh of Bladder and Kidney trouble. I suffered ten years and spent hundreds of dollars with best doctors and specialists without benefit. Drake's Palmato Wine has made me a well man. A young woman here was given up to die by a Minneapolis specialist and he and our local doctor said they could do no more for her. She has been taking Drake's Palmato Wine one week and is rapidly recovering."

The Drake Formula Company, Drake Bldg., Chicago, Ill., will send a trial bottle of Drake's Palmato Wine free and prepaid to any reader of this paper. The name of the patient is your only expense to get this free bottle.

THE REAL CAUSE.

The Ancient Scap-Fever Theory Exploded. At one time dandruff was attributed to the result of a feverish condition of the scalp, which threw off the dried cuticle in scales.

Professor Unna, Hamburg, Germany, noted authority on skin diseases, explodes this theory and says that dandruff is a germ disease.

This germ is really responsible for the dandruff and for so many bald heads. It can be cured if it is gone about in the right way. The right way, of course, and the only way, is to kill the germ.

Newbro's Herpicide does this and permits the hair to grow luxuriantly, just as nature intended it should.

ELECTRIC WIZARDS NOW AT THE FAIR

Scientific Leaders of Foreign Countries Here as Delegates to International Congress.

The International electrical congress now in session at the World's Fair has brought to St. Louis some of the most distinguished students of electricity from abroad as well as the leaders in electrical science in the United States.

Among the foreign delegates are R. Kaye Gray, president of the British Institution of Electrical Engineers; Prof. M. Ascoli, president of the Associazione Elettrotecnica di Italy; Dr. Glazebrook, principal of the testing institute at Bushy, England; Robert Hammond, treasurer of the British Institution of Electrical Engineers; Prof. John Perry, formerly principal of the Technical College at Tokyo, Japan; H. E. Harrison, principal of Farraday Institute, London; Dr. Louis Dunan, Carl Herring and Prof. C. P. Steinmetz.

Others accompanying the party are M. Hayashi, son of the Japanese minister to Great Britain; and Theodore Feilden, editor-in-chief of the Electrical Magazine, one of the leading technical journals of Great Britain.

The party reached Boston Sept. 2, where its members visited the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and were entertained at Harvard University. On the trip westward, Niagara Falls and the big electric power station there were visited with interest. In Chicago, Prof. Feilden presented to Dr. Gunnarsson, head of the Armour Institute of Technology, a rare printing of the bill, issued at the outbreak of the revolutionary war, which will be preserved in the museum of Armour Institute.

GREAT RELIGIOUS FESTIVAL.

One of the Strangest Sights to Be Witnessed in the World's Fair Grounds at Mysterious Asia.

The entire Mohammedan and Buddhist population of Mysterious Asia will engage in celebrating the one thousandth anniversary of the Saracenic War of Conquest. This entails a ten days' observance, and inasmuch as they are in their second day the chances are that the whole ten will pass without any serious disturbance. The Mohammedan population of Mysterious Asia numbers over 300, and during their religious festivals of two months ago serious troubles were averted between themselves and the Buddhists. The Buddhist population of Mysterious Asia numbers over 300, and commencing today they will observe their annual week of feasting, in which some of the strangest rites ever witnessed in this country will take place. Great preparations have been made and the Buddhist priest intends to hold religious ceremonies in the open air daily, as the temple which Manager Akoun set aside for the Buddhists to worship in is entirely too small to accommodate the vast horde of Buddhists who will come from all over the World's Fair grounds to join their brethren in Mysterious Asia to celebrate the whole week. Manager Akoun has secured permission from the Buddhists to permit visitors who may enter Mysterious Asia to witness these strange, wild and weird ceremonies. The places of worship will be separate, that of the Mohammedans in the Streets of Persia, and that of the Buddhists in the Streets of India. This will be the first chance to witness the strange religious ceremonies of the Mohammedans and Buddhists.

Request Program by Band.

To prove its fondness for St. Louis, the Philippine Constabulary Band at the World's Fair purposes to play only music that St. Louisians like on St. Louis Day. With this object in view, W. H. Loying, the director of the band, has asked St. Louisians to request the band to play their favorite selections. He has asked that they communicate with him between now and St. Louis Day, stating their wishes. He will make up his concert program for the day of the pieces chosen by the great number. He will also have a guide to the taste of St. Louis during the rest of the Exposition period.

For an inexperienced person to invest his money in deeds of trust, or other securities, is very risky, as there are many things to be looked after to make them secure.
